

Speaker: Mišo Dokmanović

The Holocaust in former Yugoslavia

The Kingdom of Yugoslavia has been occupied by different foreign forces during World War II. New quisling administrations have been established throughout the country which eventually led to different approaches in the implementation of the 'final solution' of the Jewish question. The main objective of the lecture is familiarize participants with the fate of the Jews in the former Yugoslavia as well as the policies, practices and legal acts that led to their mass murder during the war.