

Workshop Summary: Building up a lesson plan

Main objective of this workshop is to sort out all the inspirations from online seminar The Holocaust as a Starting Point and to prepare a draft of a lesson plan to be developed later on. Teachers will be actively engaged and participate in preparation of lesson plans through group work and also by using Jamboard. They will choose a topic, select, analyse and propose potential materials and sources and then model learning activities step by step around them. Together they will also propose potential creative reflection techniques and assessment options.
