EMC Europe 2025 - September 1-5, 2025 Paris - Call for submission

Dear colleagues,

We are happy to inform you that our paper submission portal is now open! Please find more information in the email you will receive, and on our EMC Europe 2025 website.

We are looking forward to receiving many relevant proposals for workshops, tutorials, special sessions and regular papers for oral or poster presentations.

Sincerely,

Dr. Philippe Besnier

Chair of the EMC Europe 2025 Symposium Organizing Committee

Regular paper submission

Authors are invited to submit original contributions on all EMC-related aspects within the technical areas listed on the website. Only full 2-column, 4- to 6-page papers, prepared according to EuMW paper templates, will be peer-reviewed and checked for plagiarism using the IEEE CrossCheck portal.

• Papers must be uploaded in PDF-format through the online conference system before February 17th, 2025.

• The EuMW Microsoft Word and LaTeX templates are available by using the following link EuMW Microsoft Word Template or EuMW LaTeX Template

 To submit contributions, a new account has to be registered or an existing reviewer account from EMC Europe 2024 has to be used.

• Final versions of accepted papers which will be presented at oral or poster sessions at EMC Europe 2025 and will be published, after final verification of conformity, in the IEEE Xplore® database.

• The Best Symposium Paper and Best Student paper will be selected by the International Steering Committee.

Special sessions, workshops s tutorials

• Special sessions focus on very specific topics and applications of interest related to the conference technical areas.

Special sessions will be managed in two consecutive steps:

1. A special session project must be submitted directly by email to WTSS-emceurope2025@premc.org before January 13th, using the following template

2. Once a special session project is accepted, all papers in this session must then be submitted through the online conference system (the special session name will appear in the conference topics), and follow the same requirements and peer-review process as regular papers.

• Our annual scientific symposium invites submissions for workshops and tutorials designed to offer practical insights for newcomers, updates for seasoned professionals, and in-depth explorations and thought-provoking discussions of topical subjects workshops and tutorials will be managed in two consecutive steps:

1. A workshop/tutorial project must be submitted directly by email to WTSS-emceurope2025@premc.org before March 31st, using the following template.

2. Once a workshop/tutorial project is selected, the corresponding template must be fully completed before May, 16th to obtain the final acceptance. Note: To ensure the highest quality of educational content and an environment conducive to professional development, it is essential that these sessions maintain a purely technical and scientific focus. These sessions should not be utilized as opportunities for companies promotional activities or marketing endeavors. Instead, they should prioritize delivering substantive, in-depth technical content, advancing the understanding and practice of EMC-related disciplines.
