Join us for this 8th Edition in Rome!

NANOPHOTONICS AND MICRO/NANO OPTICS INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE 2026

After tremendous endeavors, Nanophotonics has already departed from its infancy and stepped into an exciting era, where research ideas and theoretical concepts are being vigorously transferred into functional devices and real-life applications. The sixth edition of the NANOP conference identifies the successful development of Functional Nanophotonics over the last decades as well as outlines upcoming research directions and topics, offering a vibrant platform for scientists to discuss, share, and fantasize.

This conference will gather an excellent group of Plenary speakers from different topics and will be held in Rome on October 5-7, 2026.
